SCHOOL ENDOWED BY U. S., BOMBED BY JAP PLANES

Canton Death Toll Is Over 3,000; Injured Around 5,000

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—The American government protested to the Japanese consul general at Hong Kong today against the bombing by Japanese airplanes of the campus of the American-endowed Lingnan University at Canton.

The state department said this country's protest was delivered to the Japanese official by Addison E. Southard, United States consul general at Hong Kong.

The department said Southard stated that three Japanese bombs fell on the western end of the campus at the edge of the athletic field 200 yards from houses occupied by Americans.

No buildings were struck.

In protesting to the Japanese consul general, Southard pointed out, the department said that the property was partly owned by Americans as well as the direct American participation in the institution's financial support and administration.

CASUALTIES GROW

Canton, China, June 8.—(AP)—Two new bombardments today raised civilian casualties in this crippled city to at least 3,000 killed and 5,000 wounded in 12 successive days of Japanese air raids.

Two American-owned properties, the Lingnan University and oil tanks of the Standard Oil Company were struck by Japanese bombs today.

The oil tanks burst into flame, spreading a conflagration that burned the terminal of the Canton-Hankow railroad and a 16-car train that had arrived from Hankow, temporary seat of China's government.

At least 300 new civilian casualties were inflicted on Honam island, an industrial district. Several Japanese bombs, apparently aimed at the pearl river bridge, exploded in Honam's congested areas, demolishing about 100 houses.

It was estimated fully 500,000 inhabitants of this war-torn city of about 1,000,000 had fled. About one-third of its residences have been vacated.

Many Bodies Missing

No accurate list of dead and injured could be compiled because many bodies still were buried in the debris of wrecked buildings with rescue squads unable to keep pace with the destruction.

A direct hit on Canton's power station cut off electric power, disabling the city's air alarm system and crippling hospital services.

Police dashed from house to house ringing doorbells to warn in-

Ford Company To Carry NLRB Order To Supreme Court

Covington, Ky., June 8.—(AP)—The Ford Motor Company notified the sixth U. S. circuit court of appeals today of its intention to carry to the U. S. Supreme Court its contest of a national labor relations board order seeking to require the firm's compliance with the Wagner act.

The Ford company advised the court that it would apply next Friday for an order staying the tribunal's decree of May 5, granting the NLRB's request to withdraw certain records in the case—a move made, board spokesmen said, because of a Supreme court decision in a Kansas City stockyards case.

The court announced on Tuesday that oral arguments, scheduled Friday, could not be heard and that questions should be submitted in briefs.

The original board order was issued Dec. 22 and sought to require reinstatement of 29 workers in Ford's Michigan plants.

Horner Describes Lowden Visit As Purely Personal

Springfield, Ill., June 8.—(AP)—Governor Horner described his unscheduled call on former Governor Frank O. Lowden yesterday as a "purely personal visit" and said he would decide definitely today whether he will make a speech in behalf of the administration's state school board bill.

Driving to northern Illinois, Mr. Horner yesterday stopped at the Sinnissippi farm of the Republican wartime governor after inspecting White Pines State Park in Ogle county.

The governor said he and Mr. Lowden discussed many subjects, but that mention of the school issue was casual.

School Dances

Chicago, June 8.—(AP)—Weekly dances will be introduced in 10 high schools next fall to keep Chicago's boys and girls out of mischief.

William H. Johnson, superintendent of schools, said "this is my plan of doing something to cut down juvenile delinquency."

"Most of our students are decent young people who want a good time," he added, "and they would much prefer a school dance to an evening in a tavern."

LONE SEAPLANE BOMBS SPANISH COASTAL TOWN

Gandia, Spain, June 8.—(AP)—A lone seaplane bombed and machine-gunned this British-operated port on government Spain's Mediterranean coast in a moonlight raid early today, damaging a British dredger so seriously that she sank a few hours later.

The harbor at Gandia, 36 miles south of Valencia, is a small, modern port, owned by a British company.

The plane, believed to be the same one which bombed two British ships in Alicante harbor yesterday, dropped about thirty bombs, five of them hitting the dredger.

Twenty railway cars and a warehouse were destroyed and another warehouse was damaged. The warehouses were machine-gunned, but there were no casualties.

Date of Dalhousie's Execution Extended

Chicago, June 8.—(AP)—The Federal Circuit Court of Appeals extended indefinitely today the date of the execution of Rhuel James Dalhousie for the murder of an Indiana state highway policeman.

The stay was granted in an order by Judges Will M. Sparks and Walter E. Treanor on the application of counsel for the Brady gangster. They said they would file a writ of certiorari for a review by the United States Supreme Court.

The Circuit Court of Appeals recently upheld the death sentence imposed on Dalhousie by Federal Judge Thomas W. Slick at Hammond, Ind. Dalhousie was scheduled to die in the electric chair at Michigan City prison Friday under Judge Slick's sentence.

STILL UNCONSCIOUS

Geneseo, Ill., June 8.—(AP)—Miss May Jordan, 22, of Cherry, Ill., remained unconscious at the Geneseo hospital today, her condition still critical as the result of injuries suffered in an automobile collision near Atkinson Monday. Hu Pin Wang, Chinese student of Cedar Rapids and Kate Selemay, Waterloo, Ia., nurse also injured in the accident in which her father was killed, showed some improvement.

Graduation Gift

St. Louis, June 8.—(AP)—Mrs. Norman E. Tomlinson gave her husband, star athlete at Washington University, a graduation "present" yesterday—a suit for a divorce or annulment.

She married Tomlinson, resident of Alton, Ill., in an elopement May 28, 1937. He was a member of the University's football, basketball and track teams.

Navy Ready to Start Construction Of World's Largest Military Plane

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—The Navy is ready to start building the world's largest military plane—possibly the largest of any type.

The original model will cost upwards of $3,000,000, four times as much as the army's 32-ton "super flying fortress." Its weight may reach 50 tons, compared to the 4½-ton Atlantic Clipper, the nation's largest ocean air transport, now being tested at Seattle.

Rear Admiral Arthur B. Cook, chief of the Bureau of Aeronautics, said the new plane "will be a very great and important advance over the airplanes of the flying boat type now in existence, and its potential naval value is extremely high."

Just how far and fast the craft will go is confidential, Admiral Cook said, but he indicated its range would exceed considerably the 5,000-mile range needed for a nonstop roundtrip from San Francisco to Honolulu. The plane will be partially armored and will carry a crew of 10 to 14 men.

FAILS TO KILL KELLY RELIEF REVENUE BILL

Adamowski Feared Licensing Business To Support Paupers

Springfield, Ill., June 8.—(AP)—Rep. Benjamin S. Adamowski of Chicago, Horner floor leader, failed in an effort today to get the House to kill the business licensing-relief revenue bill backed by Mayor Edward J. Kelly of Chicago.

More than half the representatives sat silent when Adamowski, declaring business men are mobilizing against the threat of extensive licensing, moved that the bill be tabled.

The vote was 33 to 30 for tabling, with five voting present, but Speaker Louie E. Lewis ruled the motion was lost because it didn't have a constitutional majority or two-thirds of those voting.

The Senate meanwhile passed and sent to Gov. Horner the bill extending the three per cent rate of the utility sales tax, which is used to finance relief. The vote was 38 to 0.

LOOK TO SENATOR GILLETTE TO END PARTY TROUBLES

Iowa Democratic Vote Is Greatest in The Party's History

Des Moines, La., June 8.—(AP)—State Democratic party leaders today looked to Senator Guy M. Gillette to smooth out the rough spots which might endanger the success of him and all elective state officers in the fall election.

Representative Otha D. Wearin, the anti-court plan Democrat's principal opponent, ended the bitter senatorial primary last night by conceding Gillette's victory.

The nominee received telegrams of congratulations from both Wearin and James Roosevelt, son of the president who described Wearin as "My Friend" in a telegram made public during the primary campaign.

The Democratic vote was the greatest in the party's history, exceeding by more than 10,000 the previous high of 143,000 cast in 1934.

Gillette had polled 80,107 votes, more than 5,000 greater than the combined total of his four opponents, with only 11 of the state's 247 precincts unreported. Wearin followed with 42,282.

WOULD RAISE LEVY

They would permit the pauper levy to be increased from three to six mills, with supplemental levies to be made before September 1 by the Chicago council and downstate town meetings.

Adamowski, declaring he hadn't discussed the bills with state officials, struck at Mayor Edward J. Kelly's business licensing program, saying:

"There isn't a small property owner that I know of who would object to paying three or four or five dollars more on his real estate tax bill for relief in preference to paying a relief tax to the butcher and the baker to make up for a city license on business."

"That kind of a license would be passed on to the people at a rate that no one could be sure about."

Mayor Kelly has opposed higher property taxes for relief.

Objections were raised, with Calvin D. Johnson, Belleville Republican, asserting:

"This is just another example of stop-gap legislation. What we need is efficient administration."

Adamowski told the House Governor Horner has indicated that, if local communities do something to help meet the relief financing crisis, a second concurrent special session might be called to increase the $4,500,000 already voted from the state treasury.

The Democratic leader expressed the opinion that another state appropriation could be made without unbalancing the state's budget.

NOT PLAYING POLITICS

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—Ten Democratic senators proposed today that a three-man senatorial committee be appointed to investigate any charges of politics in relief which might arise during the 1938 election campaign.

Their resolution was introduced by Senator Tydings (D-Md.) just about the time Harry L. Hopkins was telling reporters that Senator Gillette's renomination in the Iowa Democratic primary showed the WPA was not playing politics.

Some of the resolution's signers had criticized the WPA administrator in the senate last week for endorsing Representative Wearin, Gillette's principal opponent.

The resolution, which made no specific reference to the Iowa situation, was offered by administration supporters as well as Roosevelt critics.

The signers in addition to Tydings were Senators Adams of Colorado, Bulkeley of Ohio, Burke of Nebraska, George of Georgia, Gerry of Rhode Island, Hatch of New Mexico, King of Utah, McAdoo of California and Wagner of New York.

BODY RECOVERED

Carlyle, Ill., June 8.—(AP)—The body of Charles Walker, 16, who drowned while swimming in the Kaskaskia river Sunday, was recovered yesterday near Huxia Ford. He drowned in sight of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doris Walker of O'Fallon, Ill.

JAP MINE DISASTER

Fukuoka, Japan, June 8.—(AP)—Eight miners were killed and 37 trapped in an explosion in the day's coal mine at Shimamura today. The fate of the entombed men was not known immediately.

SHRINERS' CONVENTION

Los Angeles, June 8.—(AP)—Shriners' Imperial Council met today in this 1938 mecca to elect an outer guard who, in 11 years, will become Imperial Potentate over all the temples of the United States and Canada. All other officers of the Imperial Council automatically move one position, leaving the outer guard vacant.

Lyle Prescott Sent Shot After Fleeing Men: Hit One: Both Under Arrest

Rock Falls Men Held for Stickup of Dixon on Oil Station

A daring holdup of the Prescott service station, Everett street and Galena avenue, shortly before 9 o'clock last evening by two unmasked men, resulted in both having been peppered with bird shot from a shotgun in the hands of Lyle Prescott, manager of the station, who witnessed a portion of the holdup from his car as he drove north on Galena avenue. A. A. Hackett, station attendant, was the victim of the holdup, which netted the two bandits about $65 in cash.

Frank Persico, 19-year-old Rock Falls youth, was the first of the alleged robbers to be taken in custody a few minutes after the holdup. Kenneth Sullivan, 29-year-old brick mason, living at 208 Dixon avenue, Rock Falls was apprehended this morning about 9 o'clock by Chief of Police McDonald of Rock Falls and was held for Dixon authorities. Persico was said to have named Sullivan as his companion in the robbery.

The two men entered the service station with their right hands in their coat pockets and told Hackett that a hold-up was in progress. Hackett was ordered into the back as he commanded him to face the wall. At the hospital, Persico was said to have told police that he had only a pair of pliers in his pocket and was not armed.

REPORTS ROBBERY

Charles Lloyd, rural mail carrier, reported a bold robbery to the police this morning. He was fishing yesterday afternoon near the sewage treatment plant west of the city limits and had locked his parked car. A hole was cut in the bottom of the car and the dash compartment opened, from which several articles were taken, among which was a valuable Iver Johnson 32 caliber target pistol.

REPORTS THEFT OF CAR

Automobile thieves continue to be active in Dixon and another car in which the owner had left his keys in the switch was taken during the night. Elmer Levan, residing at 803 Ottawa avenue reported to the police station at 5 o'clock this morning that his 1931 Ford sedan was taken from in front of his home during the night. The car bore Illinois license plates, 1247-834.

DIES OF INJURIES

J. M. Olsson, 64, of Tampico, former Whiteside county treasurer, died in a Sterling hospital yesterday from injuries suffered in an automobile accident. He was enroute to Rochester, Minn., yesterday to get his wife, who recently underwent an operation there, when the accident occurred 10 miles from his home.

ON LARCENY CHARGE

Willie Davis, local Negro, was arrested shortly before 6 o'clock last evening on a charge of larceny preferred by Joseph A. Drain. Davis was alleged to have taken several shirts, a pair of shoes and a suit of clothes out of Drain's room in a private home. When questioned at the police station, he admitted the theft. An information charging larceny was filed before Judge Grover Gehant in the county court this afternoon and Davis is held in the city jail awaiting a hearing.

ANNOUNCES EXAMINATIONS

The secretary of the U. S. Civil Service board of examiners at the Dixon post office today announced competitive examinations before June 20 for the following government positions: printer's assistant in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Treasury department, entrance salary 66 cents an hour, less 3½ per cent retirement reduction. In addition to a general physical examination, applicant will be required to undergo a special test to determine susceptibility to dermatitis which sometimes develops from handling printed work.

Bishop Stewart Recovering From His Heart Attack

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., June 8.—(AP)—Bishop George Craig Stewart of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago who suffered a heart attack last Monday night had a "fairly restful" night, physicians said.

Dr. Edwin Randall, diocesan secretary and president of the standing committee, said today all of Bishop Stewart's official appointments have been cancelled. Friends said that he probably will remain in the War Memorial hospital here for another two weeks and not return to his duties before early fall.

Life is Much Brighter Today Than A Month Ago For Baby Helaine Colan

Chicago, June 8.—(AP)—Life today was much brighter for ten-week-old baby Helaine Colan than just a month ago.

Four weeks ago her left eye was removed because of a cancerous growth and there was likelihood she would lose her right eye, also affected by the malignant tumor. Furthermore there was a possibility the glioma had already reached the brain.

That meant—just a month ago—that ahead of the second daughter of a young dentist, Dr. Herman Colan, and his wife, Estelle, was blindness or early death—or both very soon.

But now her chances of partial sight and life are "very very promising" in the words of her maternal grandfather, Dr. Morris Hersman. Results from x-ray treatments have been very good, Dr. Hersman said. Examination of the removed eye showed the tumor, which first affects the retina had not progressed to the optic nerve or brain.

Highway News

South Bend, Ind., June 8.—(AP)—St. Joseph county agreed to pave one-half of a border-line road while Marshall county paved the other.

Later the St. Joseph county commissioners discovered their crews had paved the Marshall half of the road. Now the Marshall commissioners suggest that St. Joseph abide by its agreement and pave its own half.

APPROPRIATIONS UP TO NEW HIGH FOR PEACETIME

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—Appropriations in the current congressional session will reach the highest peacetime peak in American history.

Figures prepared by the house appropriations committee on bills pending or already enacted showed today the total probably will be between $11,838,622,468 and $12,281,994,764.

The previous record, except for World War years, was $10,560,833,165 voted in 1936. That included $2,237,000,000 for payment of the soldiers' bonus, Congress appropriated $9,356,174,982 in 1937.

Two factors are responsible primarily for this year's increase:

1. The business recession compelled President Roosevelt to increase more than threefold his original recommendation of a billion dollars for relief of the unemployed.
2. The Social Security program has meant a billion-dollar addition to the government's permanent appropriations since last year.

The legislators already have provided an extra $250,000,000 for relief to be expended by July 1. The relief and public works bill to help the needy after that date carried $2,917,905,000 in outright appropriations as passed by the senate, but the final figure will be determined by a senate-house committee.

Second Special Session Possible

Springfield, Ill., June 8.—(AP)—Possibility that a second special session of the legislature may be called was seen today in new efforts to draft a truck and bus regulation bill at the request of Governor Horner.

Sub-committees from the Illinois Commerce Commission, public works and buildings department and uniform motor vehicle laws commission assumed the task with the question of where administration of the proposed law should be placed a possible stumbling block.

Heading the sub-committees are Commissioner Andrew Olson of the I. C. C., Ernest Lieberman, chief highway engineer, and Senator Louis J. Menges of the motor vehicle laws commission.

ORDER REFUSED

Springfield, Ill., June 8.—(AP)—The Illinois Supreme Court refused today to order Cook County Circuit Judge Stanley H. Klarkowski to dismiss the contest brought by Rep. John G. Ryan of Chicago against Adam S. Miodowski for the Democratic house nomination from the 13th senatorial district. Miodowski, allied with Horner forces, nosed out Ryan at the April 12 primary by 140 votes.

SLAYER SURRENDERS

Paducah, Ky., June 8.—(AP)—Police Chief W. E. Bryants announced today Lawrence A. Gough, 31, confessed today he slew Laura Krenrich, 36-year-old Syracuse, N. Y., beauty operator in their Syracuse apartment, ten days ago. Gough, formerly of Newport, Ky., surrendered this morning, Bryants said.

Won't Be Jalopie

Janesville, Wis., June 8.—(AP)—Johnny Arbutnot, 70, is retiring, after teaching physics in high school 41 years, "because I don't want to be a jalopie."

"When you get to teaching granddaughters of your former pupils I guess it's time to quit," he said.

He was guest of honor at a high school dinner climaxing "Johnny Arbutnot Day," proclaimed by the city council.

CONGRESS GROUP COMPROMISES ON WAGE-HOUR RULE

Agree on Universal Wage in Interstate Industries

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—A joint congressional committee compromised wage-hour legislation today by agreeing to imposition of a universal wage of 40 cents an hour in all interstate industries at the end of seven years, except where such a wage would cause unemployment.

The compromise, adopted with the approval of 12 of the 14 conferees, would provide for a minimum wage of 25 cents an hour, with no exceptions, for the first year. This would be advanced to 30 cents the following year.

After this board appointed by a central administrator would be empowered to examine conditions in individual industries to determine the minimum wage to be paid by these industries. The boards, made up of representatives of the employers, employees and public would be charged with the duty of increasing the minimum to 40 cents an hour as rapidly as possible.

At End of 7 Years

At the end of seven years, all wages in interstate industry would go to the 40 cents an hour level, except where these boards found that such action would substantially curtail employment in the industry.

Administration forces, worried lest southerners start a filibuster, swung support to a proposal making a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour a goal in interstate industry, but fixing no time limit for reaching that figure.

But Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) of the senate labor committee declared that if this compromise is adopted, the legislation is sure to face a court fight.

Conferees accepted this constitutional challenge, he said, when they wrote into the rough a draft a provision for a minimum wage of 25 cents an hour for all interstate industry. Senator Borah (R-Idaho) agreed with Thomas' interpretation.

The question, Thomas explained is whether any employer ordered to pay this minimum wage could prove in court that he would be forced out of business, thus destroying his property without due process of law.

Most of the senate members of the conference committee felt that if the courts uphold the first year minimum of 25 cents an hour and a second year minimum of 30 cents, there would be little difficulty in maintaining the validity of the remainder of the bill.

$396 Paid Since December For Fox Bounties In Lee

Lee county residents destroyed a total of 172 foxes since December 1, 1937 to June 1 of this year, a total of six months, according to the records in the office of County Clerk Sterling D. Schrock. Of this number, 92 were classified as old foxes, being upwards of six months of age upon which a three dollar bounty is paid. There were 80 cubs or young foxes destroyed under the age of six months. County Clerk Schrock paid out $396 in fox bounties over the six month period and but $40 was paid out during the entire year from June 1, 1937 to the same date this year for wolves, there being only four destroyed.

Last November the board of supervisors adopted the fox bounty plan and a sum of $250 was appropriated at the December meeting to be used in paying the bounties. At the first of June, this amount had been exceeded $146 for which deficit an appropriation will doubtless be made at the June meeting next week to cover.

The county record book from which wolf and fox bounty certificates are made out by County Clerk Schrock, is one of the oldest records now in service in the court house. Certificate No. 1 was drawn Oct. 2, 1885 by County Clerk Charles H. Gardner and made payable to Cyrus T. Glass of Wyoming township, representing bounties paid by the county for six month wolves which were taken near Paw Paw. The book contains of these county orders and has seen its greatest use since the fox bounty became effective Dec. 1, there being about one-half of the certificates used to date.

DON BUDGE WINNER

Auteuil, France, June 8.—(AP)—Playing virtually errorless tennis, Don Budge swamped the young Frenchman, Bernard Destremeneu, 6-4, 6-3, 6-4, today and gained a berth in the semi-final round of the French hard court championships.

Poet's Corner

THE NIGHT

At twilight in the evening cool
The night comes marching on.
Not heavy or with jerked pace
But graceful like a fawn.

Prancing daintily from the east
Slowly it envelopes all.
The stars come peeping from their nooks
At the growing dusks beck and call.

The fawn goes on merrily
As the night, prancing on, will
Leaving behind the milky way,
And below a world that's still.

But at last the fawn gathers up
Her flowing gown of night,
And wanders on to distant lands
And leaves behind the light.

JAPAN BIGGEST CUSTOMER FOR U. S. MUNITIONS

Washington, June 8.—(AP)—Japan has become the United States' best customer for war supplies.

The state department published figures Tuesday showing that Japan had passed China during the last six months, although Brazil led all other nations in May alone, when she bought $1,494,824 worth of arms and ammunition. Japan spent $1,334,608 to rank second in May.

Exports of war supplies to China and Japan in the six months exceeded those for the entire previous fiscal year.

From December 1 to June 1, Japan spent $6,091,090 for war equipment in the United States, compared with China's purchases of $5,819,739 worth.

The state department meanwhile sought further information on a new British suggestion that the United States participate in an investigation of aerial attacks in Spain.

Secretary Hull conferred with division chiefs, but declined to say what inference might be drawn from consideration given the proposal.

The sharp words used by Secretary Hull and Undersecretary Welles in discussions of international affairs last week were repeated on Monday night by Francis B. Sayre, assistant secretary of state.

Sayre said in a radio address that in recent months "events have taken place which challenge the very existence of international order."

Asserting that stable peace could not result from rule "of tooth and fang," he said it could be built only "upon rule of law."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks punk. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 26c. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

Everything is Set For Barbecue Picnic

The barbecue all-church picnic of the Methodist church on Thursday afternoon and evening is creating a lot of interest. More than one hundred pounds of meat is to be barbecued for hours at Lowell park over the open fire. An expert in the art of cooking has been engaged and it looks like a real feast when several hundred gather about the tables in the evening at 6:30. H. C. Warner has made arrangements with the park authorities and Mr. Jensen is cooperating in a fine way to make the affair a success.

The Methodist young men have challenged the young men from the Dixon Christian church to a base ball game. Paul Marth, in charge of the sports, is providing for something every minute of the afternoon for all groups. In case of rain the dinner will be held in the pavilion.

Music Club to Give Program This Evening

Tonight at 8 o'clock a full evening of entertainment will be presented at the Stony Point school by the Four Star Music club. The program will include two one-act plays, "A Romance of the Past" and "Like Mistress—Like Maid" and several musical numbers of solos, duets, piano and guitar selections and Hawaiian dancing.

Those to be presented on the program are: Mrs. Charles Lawson, George Lawson, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Weiser, Miss Josephine Hollingsworth, the Misses Jessie and Marie Weaver, the Misses Mildred and Medrith McMillan, the Misses Gladys and Vera Lenman, Lyle Selover, the Misses Evelyn and Geraldine McNeil and Miss Lois Horton.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNIC TOMORROW

The annual picnic of the Christian Bible school will be held at Lowell park tomorrow. Dinner will be spread at noon. Each family is asked to bring a well-filled basket and the food will be served as in the past years. Coffee and ice cream will be furnished. Horse-shoe pitching, a ball game and numerous other games for the several classes will be on the program. All members and friends of church and school are invited to join in the fellowship and pleasure of the day. Those desiring transportation come to the church between the hours of 9:45 and 11:30.

Church Club Enjoys Lowell Park Picnic

It was demonstrated last night at a picnic supper at Lowell park, sponsored by the C. and S. club of the Brethren church, that a group of hungry men cannot easily pass up a good meal. The club invited their husbands and others to attend their picnic supper and after the table was spread with delicious things to eat and their appetites aroused to an almost uncontrollable condition they were told that each man must have his neck measured and pay one cent for each inch measuring around the neck. Time was precious to the men, there was no time to lose, and not much resistance was offered, but from some of the measurements recorded if they were to buy shirts to meet their measurements they would have to be made to special orders, but since there was not much to be said in the way of adjustments each man paid over the required amount, but none of the men will ever criticize Esau for selling his birthright for a mess of pottage.

Another interesting feature of the evening's pleasures was a splendid program given by the Tiny Tots Sunday school class. When the parting time came all the men were happy and seemed contented and even thanked the ladies for the pleasant evening they had enjoyed, and again it was proven that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. The C. and S. club is one of the most active organizations of the Brethren church and they have sponsored a number of very unique ways of raising money, much of which is given to the building fund. Mrs. Melvin Burgard is president of the organization and is giving a great deal of time to their program which includes missions, welfare work and Christian education.

Miss Marie Conroy Honored at Shower

Miss Marie Conroy, who will become the bride of LeRoy Long, was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts at a miscellaneous shower Monday evening at Walnut. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served to about 175 guests, after which the guests departed to their homes wishing the bride-to-be much happiness and prosperity in her new home. Miss Conroy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Conroy of South Dixon and Mr. Long is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Long of Palmyra. The wedding will take place tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock at St. Mary's church at Walton. The couple will make their home on a farm in Prairieville.

Three From Dixon Will Be Graduated From Northwestern

Those from Dixon who will receive degrees from Northwestern university at the commencement exercises to be held Saturday afternoon in Dyché stadium are: John Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Dixon of 411 E. McKinney, who will receive a bachelor of laws degree; Everett Wassom Ferguson, son of E. J. Ferguson of 508 Galena avenue, who will receive doctor of dental surgery and bachelor of science in dentistry degrees; and Harry Austin Lazier, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Lazier of 203 E. McKinney street, who will receive a bachelor of science degree.

Children Enjoy A Country Club Party

Twenty-four little folks and 18 mothers enjoyed a delightful party for the children of Dixon Country club members yesterday afternoon at the clubhouse. The young people spent the afternoon playing outdoors, enjoying the sand piles and teeter-totters. Bright colored balloons were given as favors. Ice cream shaped in flower pots with lolly-pops as the flowers and animal cookies were served as refreshments. Those in charge of the affair were Mrs. Ben T. Shaw, Mrs.

BLACK & WHITE SHOW HELD AT ASSEMBLY PARK

Seventy Holstein Cattle Are Judged in Outdoor Event Yesterday

According to Roi Degner, secretary of the Rock River Valley Holstein club, the second annual Black and White show held yesterday at Assembly Park surpassed that of last year in interest on the part of breeders and the number of cattle shown.

With weather conditions ideal for an outdoor show about 200 persons witnessed the judging of 70 dairy cattle of the Holstein breed. In the morning's judging contest open to high school teams or 4-H clubs, Oregon high school was first with a score of 508 out of a possible 600. Walnut high school and Sterling high school tied for second place, each with 507 points. The tie was judged in the afternoon with the result that Walnut took second honors Walnut 4-H team was fourth with 481 and Ashton, with 467 points, was given fifth place award.

Individual Scores

Individual scores for members of the winning Oregon team were:

Lyle Prescott and Mrs. LeGrand Cannon.

Troubadettes End Concert Season

On Sunday evening the members of the Troubadette chorus presented their final concert of the season before a large and appreciative audience at Shannon.

Rev. Eberly, pastor of the Evangelical church in which the concert was given, is the father of Mrs. Wilbur Schreiner, one of the members of the Troubadettes.

To Mrs. E. M. Goodsell, the director, and Mrs. Lyle Prescott, the accompanist, much credit is due for the many worthwhile things this group has accomplished in the past year.

APATHY IS ONE DEFENSE AGAINST BEING TAKEN IN

By Bruce Catton

Once every year the world of adults bends a thoughtful eye on the boys and girls in the colleges, hands them a great deal of advice (which the boys and girls wisely ignore) and tries to figure out where the youngsters are heading and why.

That time is upon us once more; and before it is over you are quite certain to find some educated bigwig or other loudly deploring the fact that our collegiate generation is too frivolous and self-centered, too much absorbed in the trivia of campus life and too ignorant of the great problems of the outer world.

You are certain to hear that, because someone has been saying it every commencement season since John Harvard's day or thereabouts, and there is no reason to suppose that this commencement season is going to be any different.

Now there is a great deal of truth in it, and the people who deplore our youth's failure to get all wound up about momentous issues know what they are talking about. The ordinary collegian knows plenty about the world of sport, swing bands, moving picture stars, clothing styles, slang and campus politics; he has a profound apathy regarding things like Fascism, Communism, the war in Spain, the labor movement, mass production and applied economics.

But it is perfectly possible that this is something to be thankful for, not to deplore.

European college students are all the other way. They are passionately aware of the great burning issues; they parade, hold mass meetings and make speeches, issue manifestos and go through all the other motions common to people who are on fire about something.

The trouble is that they are quite as likely to be heading in the wrong direction on these issues as in the right one.

Records fail to show that the awakened and passionate German students, for instance, did anything in particular to save their country from the menace of Hitlerism. The records do show, however, that in such a country as Poland it has been the students themselves who have been in the front ranks of the growing anti-Semitic movement. They have marched in the book-burning processions in all the dictator-led countries, and they have lined up with the oppressors whenever the right slogan has been chanted into their youthful ears.

In America we at least don't run that risk. Our lads may be a bit flighty and ignorant—but no enemy of our liberties is going to find their organized enthusiasm a handy instrument for his use. Their very apathy is in itself a defense against catastrophe.

OH, CUT IT OUT

The world is full of surprises. Some men who swore they represented the Communist party of the United States had themselves a convention a while ago in New York.

They opened with the Star-Spangled Banner. The hall was thick with American flags and decorations in red, white, and blue. Baskets of roses on the speakers' platform may or may not have been borrowed from the last D. A. R. convention.

The oratory may or may not have been ghost-written by the Chamber of Commerce, both leading political parties, and the League for Decency.

"Light is beginning to disclose to the American people," warned Comrade Browder, general secretary, "the rocks and pitfalls of the path that lies immediately before them."

The air was thick with references to Jefferson, Paine, and Lincoln. A plea was made for everybody to "rise above differences." Who struck out the word "party"? The "hand of brotherly co-operation" was extended to the Catholic Church. A shocked, indignant attack was made on a book which was felt to be dangerous to the morality of the younger generation.

Everybody wound up by binding themselves to "defend the United States Constitution."

The world is full of surprises, and it might be worth while to hire some bright young man to find out what the next one from that quarter is going to be.

ATTENTION TO TENSION

Dr. Kurt Lewin, a child psychologist, performed an illuminating experiment with groups of school children, but the experiment should have been carried further.

He had the groups establish little governments of their own, and after a while he peeked in on them to see how they were doing.

His conclusions were that in an autocracy the "social tension seems to be due to lack of freedom," whereas in a state of anarchy the tensions seems to be due to the lack of "long-range planning and meaningful time perspective."

He should have established a democracy in the midst of autocracies and anarchies, too. There he probably would have found that the tension seems to be due (a) to the existence of neighboring autocracies and anarchies, (b) to a fear of long-range planning, (c) to a fear of insufficient planning, (d) to a fear of loss of freedom, and (e) to a fear of too much freedom.

Washington—Justice Department records on kidnapping disclose two interesting facts about this foul crime.

1. That usually it comes in bunches.

2. That it occurs most frequently in the spring and early summer.

G-men attribute the first largely to publicity. Someone is kidnapped, the story is printed far and wide, and this lead to other "snatches." The second they lay chiefly to the greater accessibility of victims in the early warm weather months.

The spring and early summer of 1933 saw the high-water mark for kidnappings. From May to July, scattered from New York to Oklahoma, there were six abductions—all of adults.

Since 1932, when the Lindbergh baby disappeared, seven children have been stolen. Three were found dead (the Lindbergh boy, the Mattson boy and little Peter Levine) while three were ransomed alive.

Only two death sentences have been imposed on kidnapers under the so-called Lindbergh law. Arthur Goetz, Texas outlaw, was executed and the kidnaper of elderly Charles Ross is under sentence of death in Chicago. Bruno Hauptmann, convicted for the Lindbergh crime, was executed under a New Jersey state law.

My Boss
The President always refers to Ambassador Joseph Daniels, who was Secretary of the Navy during the Wilson Administration, as "my boss." The two men are close friends and when alone together, Daniels calls Roosevelt "Franklin."

Homer Cummings
Homer Cummings is taking to his new job of mediating the boundary dispute between Argentina and Chile with all the gusto of Walter Winchell writing a column.

Called off the golf course at Pinehurst some time ago by a telephone call from Santiago, Chile, asking him to settle this age-old dispute, the Attorney General has been working hard.

Usually, international mediators want to postpone a job of this kind as long as possible, if not duck it altogether. But not Cummings. He has asked the State Department to send him all possible books and papers, and has been digging into Spanish titles from the early days of the Conquistadores.

The dispute involves three small islands in the Straits of Magellan, located between Chile and Argentina. Although they are among the human habitations nearest to the South Pole, and of no economic value, Chilean and Argentine officers have boasted "The Day" when they might settle this dispute by force of arms.

New Comptroller General

After months of waiting, the President has quietly selected the successor to John R. McCarl as Comptroller General and guardian of the government financial gate. He is Lindsay Warren, for thirteen years Congressman from North Carolina, and one of the most efficient supporters Roosevelt has in the House.

Warren was informed some months ago that he could have the comptroller general vacancy if he wanted it, but at that time expressed the desire to remain in Congress. More recently, however, he has given indications of changing his mind.

Note—Although Lindsay Warren has led many difficult battles for the President, perhaps the job for which he is most famous is running the House of Representatives restaurant and making it pay. The Senate restaurant is always in the red, but Warren insists upon the House cafe balancing its budget even if it has to charge 15 cents for pie.

South American Shakedown
One of the new aircraft carriers, probably the Enterprise, is scheduled shortly to make a shakedown cruise to Brazil.

Behind the trip are two factors: 1. to make up for the recent flight of the U. S. Army bombers to Argentina which skipped Brazil; and 2. to keep the naval prowess of the U. S. A. in the minds of Latin Americans.

With Fascist and Nazi sentiment at work in Brazil the State Department considers it good policy to stage periodic goodwill trips to South America.

Note—At first the Navy wanted to send the Enterprise to Brazil without any airplanes aboard, but the State Department turned thumbs down, said that an airplane carrier without its planes would be like Mrs. McLean without the Hope diamond.

Gratitude

Not long ago Senator Radcliffe of Maryland came out with a public statement emphatically endorsing his Democratic colleague, Senator Tydings, for re-nomination and election.

It was an unequivocal statement, containing no ifs, ands or buts, at a time when the Roosevelt Administration was (and still is) much opposed to Tydings' re-nomination.

Because of Roosevelt's opposition to Tydings, the statement made the front pages throughout Maryland and was considered a great break for him.

Next day Senator Tydings met Senator Radcliffe in the Democratic cloakroom, and said:

"George, I want to thank you for your statement. But I think I should also tell you that it did you more good than it did me."

V. K. Waterloo, Ia.—There is no doubt that Harry Hopkins' endorsement of Otha Wearin for the Senatorial nomination was intended to have official weight. . . . A. M. Iowa Primary

Now that the ballots have been cast and counted in the Iowa senatorial primary, the full story of the hectic behind-the-scenes struggle it stirred within the Administration can be told. A lot more primary battles will be fought, and this story may be indicative of their attendant heartaches.

The big issue of the battle between Senator Gillette, conservative Democrat, and Representative Wearin, 35-year-old New Dealer, was whether Wearin did or did not have Administration backing. Each wanted to convince Iowa voters that he had the blessing of the White House.

Real inside fact was that the President favored Wearin. So also did Jim Farley and other inner circle chieftains. But there was one exception—namely Henry Wallace, the most important political figure in Iowa.

The Agriculture chief wasn't particularly for Gillette, on the other hand, but with his eyes glued on 1940, Wallace and his political master minds figured that Gillette, an organization man, could help him most in the 1940 convention. With Wearin in the Senate, Wallace might not have the same chance to capture the Iowa delegation.

So every time the inner council made a move to put the Administration unequivocally behind Wearin, Wallace promptly threw a monkey-wrench into the works.

No Smoke

Repeated efforts were made by Wearin's friends to persuade Wallace to drop his hostility. Once Wallace and Farley engaged in a sharp exchange at a Cabinet meeting, but Henry stuck to his guns.

Finally Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins, a former Iowa, publicly endorsed Wearin. The chief objective behind this surprise declaration was to smoke Wallace out. But the maneuver failed. Wallace was apologetic in his talks with his colleagues but did not budge.

At this point the House liberals entered the undercover struggle. They sent a delegation, consisting of Representative Maverick, Elcher and Jacobsen (the last two leading Iowa liberals) to the White House to urge the President to use his influence to win over Wallace.

Roosevelt readily promised to do what he could. "I agree with you," he told the group, "that Henry is all wrong if he thinks that Wearin's election would hurt his presidential ambitions. What Henry doesn't realize is that if Gillette is re-elected he is not very apt to throw his support behind Henry."

Plot Thickens

The President made good his promise and summoned Wallace. But he got no further than the others. Wallace insisted that Wearin's nomination would raise the serious danger of a split in the party and the possible loss of the State in November.

After further discussion Wallace suggested that both candidates be asked to pledge themselves to support the primary winner. Roosevelt approved, told Wallace to put it up to Gillette and Wearin.

But instead of doing so, Henry got in touch with Senator Clyde Herring, who was in Gillette's corner and doing everything he could to help his conservative colleague.

Herring saw in Wallace's proposal a grand opportunity to offset Hopkins' endorsement of Wearin, and immediately drafted a statement to be signed by the two candidates which stressed Gillette's claim that the Administration was not interfering in the contest.

He then called up Elcher and told him that the President wanted him to get Wearin to sign the statement. This struck Elcher as very peculiar. So he telephoned Wearin in Iowa and advised him not to sign, voicing the suspicion that Herring did not have the authority to speak for the President and was trying to "pull a fast one."

Undercover Work

Elcher then set out to get at the bottom of things. While working on this he heard that Herring had released his statement to the press. This was an erroneous report. Herring had not actually done so, although he did plan to make it public if he got the signatures.

Elcher hit the ceiling and rushed to the President, with whom he was closeted for half an hour. Immediately thereafter, things began to happen. The President rang up Wallace and bawled him out for bringing Herring into the affair. This was capped by Elcher issuing an extraordinary press statement.

Headed, "President Indignant, Representative Elcher Challenges Senator Herring and Secretary Wallace After Half-Hour Conference with President," the release blasted Wallace and Herring and charged them with attempting to create the impression that the Administration was unfriendly to Wearin.

L'Envol

With Wallace silently nursing his White House spanking and Herring scampering for the storm cellar, the Wearinites made as much capital of the fracas as they could. Wearin announced that he would sign a statement promising election support if Gillette would pledge himself to be a loyal New Dealer if nominated.

Gillette didn't take this dare. He declared that he would make no commitments on what he would do after the primary.

"THE MARKS OF A CLEAR MIND"

THE STORY OF HEREDITY... THE SMITHS

DOES EVERY NORMAL PERSON POSSESS THE ABILITY TO RECOGNIZE OTHER PERSONS BY THEIR FACES AND GENERAL APPEARANCE? YES OR NO

DOES A BURGLAR RUN LESS RISK OF BEING IDENTIFIED BY MASKING THE UPPER OR LOWER PART OF HIS FACE? YOUR OPINION

The keenest anguish known to human nature is the pain of a new idea. (Bagehot). We hope this column brings you pain.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Certainly both men inherited high executive abilities but whether special military talents are inherited is not known. The best study of this problem is "Mental and Moral Heredity in Royalty" by F. A. Woods in which he shows the high degree of "ability for war and government" which ran in the descendants of William of Orange for ten generations, culminating in Frederick the Great and his brother Henry, probably a greater military genius than Frederick. Lee was the culminating figure of a long line of brilliant ancestors in the First Families of Virginia. Grant's ancestry was "good but not eminent."

Answer to Question No. 2

2. No. It is a strange thing that has come under the notice of psychologists that some people say they have almost no ability to recognize other people outside of their family and most intimate friends—perfectly normal people, too. While some have better memories than others for other people, most of us remember hosts of ordinary people's faces and appearance automatically and, as one psychologist points out, it is only when we find people who scarcely possess this sense or ability at all that we recognize it is a very definite mental ability.

Answer to Question No. 3

Thomas W. Howells, psychologist, found in an exhaustive test that when the upper parts of the faces of persons were covered observers could recognize them more correctly than when the lower part was masked. So, when you go burglarizing again use the regular robber's disguise—the red bandana tied up over the nose. More of this interesting experiment will be described next Saturday.

making the meetings fall on June 15, June 29, July 13 and July 27. Opal Hanneman gave an interesting and instructive talk on the "Care of the hands and nails." She then answered all questions that were asked pertaining to her topic. Mrs. Lyle Frost, the leader, gave a demonstration on "Fitting a Pattern." This was followed by a round table discussion of patterns. Time was spent looking through the work books. Virginia Dale will be in charge of recreation. Betty Ford and June Kalsted were appointed on the refreshment committee. The meeting was closed by singing club songs and Mrs. Frost then served refreshments.

As noted last week the Ladies' Circle will meet with Mrs. Albert Willis Thursday of this week for the annual scramble dinner and birthday luncheon at 12:30. Hostesses and program given in year book.

About 8 members and 15 guests were present at the meeting of the Lee Center unit of the Home Bureau held in the school gym Friday afternoon. Miss Coleman and Mrs. Ford gave the major and minor projects respectively, followed by the routine business and a talk on 4-H club work by Mrs. Lyle Frost. A vocal duet by Jean Hill and Klara Mortenson accompanied by Mrs. Raymond Degner and a reading by Mrs. W. S. Frost composed the brief program, then recreation was conducted by Alice Parlin and Miss Coleman. The hostesses served iced tea and an abundance of delicious home-made cookies. Mrs. Raymond Degner is chairman of this unit.

BIOGRAPHY OF PYRENEES BOLD AND DRAMATIC

Latest Chapter in Civil War Being Written There

Reports that Spanish soldiers and refugees are fleeing across the Pyrenees into French border towns draw attention to the top of the Iberian peninsula, where one of the latest chapters in the Spanish war is being written. In the recent insurgent drive to the Mediterranean, fighting has been carried into the mountains to the very edge of French soil.

Over wind-whipped, snow-packed passes of northeast Spain, still in Loyalist hands, have tramped battalions of trapped troops and hundreds of civilians, some carrying children in arms. Exhausted and weakened by exposure, many are reported by survivors to have collapsed on the way.

"The Pyrenees," points out a bulletin from the Washington, D. C. headquarters of the National Geographic Society, "do not encourage traffic. They are not as high as the Alps, nor are they as broad, averaging not more than 60 miles across. Thus their slopes rise in a precipitous wall against the rest of Europe, compared with which the more gradual incline of Italy's northern barrier presents easy passage for man and beast."

"On a relief map of Europe, the Pyrenees march across the back door of Spain with an apparent monotonous regularity. Apparently, however, there is a marked variety in this mountain chain. For some 260 miles, from the Bay of Biscay to the Mediterranean, it pushes skyward in a succession of cloud-nudging peaks and castellated crags that have caused more than one imaginative writer to refer to them as 'castles in Spain'."

"Bleak and barren, with only an occasional red-tiled village or a patch of valley green to relieve the stark rock masses, the Pyrenees are marked by several peculiarities. First, in the absence of big, placid lakes such as distinguish the Alps; instead, roaring waterfalls streak down mountain sides in cascades of spray. Then there are the frequent deep-walled recesses shaped like amphitheaters, called 'cirques,' at the heads of the valleys. And finally, and most important in the interest of transport, is the fact that from one end of the mountains to the other, passes are high and rare."

"Only at west and east extremities, where the Pyrenees stop finally to the sea, do low passes occur to permit passage of the main highways and railways that link Spain with France. Over the high, central portion, sometimes called a 'storm of hills,' there was not even a single carriage road until after the middle of the 19th century. Today, in the mountains proper, but five passes are practicable for motor traffic."

"Yet despite inaccessibility, these mountains have echoed with man's footsteps from time immemorial, and have seen drama as bizarre and variegated as their scenery."

"Over their rugged sides swarmed Celtic tribes, long before Christ, to mix with the Iberians, and later with the trading peoples of the Mediterranean, in forming the population base of the country."

"It was by way of the Pyrenees in the fifth century that Vandal hordes poured in successive waves of fury into Spain, burning and ravaging as they went."

"From the south, during the 8th-century conquest of the Moors and in the religious wars that followed, came a Mohammedan flood. Charlemagne, marching down from the north in 778, crossed these rocks with his great army. How the rear guard of these troops was ambushed and slaughtered on the return through the famous pass of Roncesvalles (in the western Pyrenees, now insurgent held, in the current Spanish conflict) provided color for centuries of European literature."

"There were other famous passages—though less romanticized in story and song, since they lacked a hero like Charlemagne's paladin, Roland. French and Spanish troops took turns crossing the Pyrenees, making bloody history on both sides of the barrier. During the final campaigns of the Peninsular War in 1813-14, a whole series of fierce battles was fought against the wild background of these mountains, ending eventually with victory for the Duke of Wellington and the expulsion of Napoleon from Spain."

History-Making Spots
"One of the most ancient and storied of Pyrenean towns lately mentioned in the news is Seo de Urgel, situated just below the mountain-straddling Republic of Andorra in the northeast triangle still controlled by Loyalist Spain. An Episcopal see since the early 800's, this city is the home of a cathedral called 'modern' by one traveler because it dates merely from the 11th century. Here the advancing Charlemagne based his troops on the ill-fated expedition that was to end so disastrously in the western pass of Roncesvalles. At Seo de Urgel, men say, mountains seem higher than anywhere else in Europe."

"La Seo, as the town is sometimes called, is a popular stop for visitors on their way to the odd little independence of Andorra, also famed for its spectacular mountain scenery. Andorra the Ancient is notable on two other counts: its unusual political set-up (it is governed jointly by France and the Bishop of Urgel); and its business of smuggling."

"Finally, there is Puigcerda, still farther east on the frontier. Founded in the 12th century, this town is now important as an intersection for roads into France that lead east through Bourg-Madame to Perpignan, and west to Toulouse. Here, too, came Charlemagne on his way to meet the forces of Islam. And recent struggles for control of this vital route across the Pyrenees indicate that once more it may play its geographic part in a modern conflict of ideologies."

Grand Detour

By Mrs. Alfred Parks

Grand Detour — John Page who recently returned home from the Dixon hospital is getting along fine, and is able to drive his car to Dixon every day.

The children of this vicinity met at the home of Mrs. Elsie Drew last Tuesday evening, where they organized and elected officers for a juvenile Grange.

Ed Senn of Dixon was a recent business caller at the Ambrose Strouse home.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Sheller of Milwaukee, Wis., were dinner guests of the Wales Sheller family on Sunday. They were enroute to the Ozarks on a vacation trip and stopper for a short visit with the former's brother.

About 75 members and friends of the Grand Detour Grange met at the Robert Colson farm and enjoyed a picnic dinner on Sunday. There was a ball game in the afternoon.

DeForest Senn spent Sunday in Freeport with friends.

Robert Abel who spent most of the past 13 months in the Alfred Parks home has gone to Cleveland, Ohio where he has secured employment.

John T. Nolf went to Chicago on business on Monday.

The Spencer reunion was held at Question Mark Park on Sunday. Relatives from Sterling, Dixon, Milledgeville, Chicago and Clinton, Iowa, numbering almost 100 sat down to a sumptuous picnic dinner at the noon hour. Every one seemed to have a good time.

Harold Sheller arrived on Sunday evening from Chicago. Then early Monday morning Harold and his brother Wales and nephew Robert Sheller left for Minneapolis, Minn., on a vacation trip.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Seibolt of Dixon spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Parks.

The Grand Detour Grange will sponsor an ice cream social at the town hall Wednesday evening, May 15, Public invited.

Mrs. John Roe is visiting relatives and friends in New York City at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Enicken and family called on relatives here Sunday afternoon.

Octagon House

BY PHOEBE ATWOOD TAYLOR

The Story So Far:

Asey Mayo, Cape Cod detective, is investigating the murder of Marina Lorne, whose husband's post office mural has aroused Quano-met. She was killed by a left handed blow from her sister's knife. Asey knows Pam Frye is innocent, as well as Tim Carr, boarder at the Frye's Octagon House. Marina was married to Tim, unknown to Jack Lorne, and also had played around with Roddy Strutt, who is now being "menaced." Then the barn burns down, Tim and Asey are knocked out in the woods, and Pam's father is found unconscious in the Lorne's cottage. The problem uppermost in Asey's mind is a $50,000 lump of ambergis Pam found the day of the murder. Pam says she hid it in the coal bin. Aaron Frye says he moved it to the barn!

Chapter 29

Upset and Downcast
The bells of Quano-met's three churches were pealing out their summonses the next morning as Asey and Pam emerged from Aaron Frye's bedroom and slowly descended the stairs. The instant the bells stopped, Aaron's clocks burst into their tirade—

Peggy Boone, who had been waiting with Mrs. Carr in the circular hallway, covered her ears with her hands.

"I hope Aaron's better," she had to yell to make herself heard above the din, "and—golly, I've got to get out! Those clocks!"

"Poor girl," Mrs. Carr said sympathetically as Peggy rushed away. "The clocks nearly drove her crazy last night. They bothered me at first, but I'm used to 'em. She says she woke up on the hour every hour, and just as she got to sleep the half hour rolled around. She looks exhausted."

"The cumulative effect is shattering," Pam said. "I hate clocks myself. So does Peg. But Father enjoys—"

"How is he? What can I do, Pam? If only I'd known about him last night, and could have helped—I'd never forgive Tim for letting me think all the to-do was over those troopers! Never! Can't I read him the Sunday papers or something? Is he well enough?"

"You might take him up the funny parts," Pam told her.

"But should he laugh?" Mrs. Carr demanded. "Won't it be bad for him to laugh?"

"He won't laugh!" Pam told her with finality. "Don't you worry, he won't laugh! He not only can't laugh, but he doesn't want to. He wouldn't laugh if he were in the best of health, the pinkest of the pink."

Pam followed Asey into the study and threw herself wearily on the couch.

"In all honesty," she said, "can you find any small vestige of silver lining, Asey?"

"Wa-el," Asey said, "Aaron's jaw is broken, and that tooth can be replaced, an his ankle'll be all right in a few days. And when you consider what happened to Marina, it's nice to know nothin' worse happened to him."

"I didn't mean about Father—I know it's a holy wonder he's here. I'm thinking about the ambergis. Oh, Asey, that ambergis! I wasn't going to tell Father until he felt better, but the minute his eyes opened after Cummings' pills wore off, he raised himself up and peered out the window and saw the ruins of the barn. And then of course I had to tell. I wish the place had been insured. Somehow it would have consoled me just to get $50 out of the mess. I'd settle for ten, cash—Asey, why do you look so enigmatic?"

"Didn't know that I was," Asey returned. "I'm just sort of wretched 'n' juggling things over in my head. I ain't responsible for what it does to my facial expressions."

Goose Burns Goose

"What is there to wrestle about?" Pam asked. "The ambergis is gone. There you are. That's that. I suppose I should be a brave girl and stick out my chin and say I don't care, better luck next time, it's courage to face facts—are there lots of worthy sentiments for misfortune and defeat? And all I could think of when I found the ambergis—was it only the day before yesterday? It seems like 50 years. Anyway, all I could think of when I found it was, 'Gee! Now I can prattle about counting chickens before they're hatched, and fools' paradises, and—oh, damn! Asey! Damn, damn, damn, damn!'"

"I dunno," Asey said. "I don't think it's as bad as all that."

"Oh, I still have my health!" Pam retorted savagely. "I know. Father will be well in a few days, and I still have my health! Good old health! Think of all the poor Spaniards and the poor Chinese and the unemployed and the distressed areas—sure. We still have our health, and we still have what passes for a roof tree. Unfold thousands would consider us heavily endowed. Overburdened with fortune. Dear me, yes!"

Asey grinned at her. "Stop being so sorry for yourself," he said, "and pause and reflect. Why was the barn burned down?"

"For all I know," Pam said, "someone wanted to toast a marsh-mallow."

"The barn got burned," Asey said, "because someone wanted me—or anyone at Octagon House who might know about the ambergis—to want us to rush to it and save it from possible flames, thus pointin' it out, so that the someone could get a line on its location."

"Werent they fooled?" Pam said bitterly. "What's the old adage about the goose and the golden eggs? It'd make a nice headline. Goose burns goose."

"Yup," Asey said. "But would the goose have started the fire and burned the barn without a nice careful investigation first? Don't be silly."

Pam sat upright on the couch.

"Asey!"

"Well, would they off? Would you? I wouldn't, myself, an' I give this feller credit. If he had brains enough to think of burnin' down the barn to find out where the ambergis was, he had brains enough to make sure he wasn't burnin' up the ambergis in the process."

"But if that's so—no, it won't work out, Asey. Father found it in the coal bin when he went down for coal for the kitchen stove Friday night. The cops were all over the place—whose car is that outside? The cops? And, by the way, if it is, what's Hanson's attitude toward me?"

"He's too upset about them two missin' troopers of his to have attitudes," Asey said. "Don't worry about him. That's the doc's car, I'd know the sound of that coffee grinder anywhere. I'll bring him in."

'Belt on the Jaw'

Cummings strode into the study and dumped his inevitable black bag down on the table.

"The recuperative powers of this village," he announced, "are amazing, simply amazing. The litter's cleaned up, the carnival atmosphere has departed, and Quano-met's going to church as sedately as if things had happened in two other towns entirely. If I hadn't seen that riot yesterday with my own eyes, I wouldn't believe it took place. How's Aaron, pretty unhappy?"

"His jaw looks better," Pam said, "and the swelling on his ankle has gone down. I think most of his present suffering is mental. He's seen the barn."

"He had to know sooner or later," Cummings said. "But I'd imagine it would add to his suffering. He thought he was doing such a big thing, to put the ambergis safely away in the barn for you—oh, Asey. We didn't need to use the sea serpent—"

"The what?" Pam demanded.

"What sea serpent?"

"Asey's idea," Cummings explained, "for distracting public interest. We didn't need it. One of the Barn Players punched another Barn Player, and Senator Hemmingswell's sons cracked up their roadster, and there's a pogy boat ashore on Black Gull Bar. Between 'em, the reporters are having a field day. I don't think they'll be around you for a while. But orders have been given to have the sea serpent spotted the minute the present attractions die down. You should see Nettie Hobbs, speaking of attractions. Piously going to church, dripping black crepe from every pore."

"All set, no doubt," Pam commented, "to pray for my soul. I know that crepe. It's a part of her Good Woman act, and she's worn it to every funeral since I can remember."

"Well, she had her picture taken with the minister on the steps," Cummings said, "and then dropping a dime into the foreign mission box. I hear it's the first time she ever dropped in anything—Is Aaron really badly broken up over the ambergis?"

Pam nodded. "He's utterly downcast about it, and he knows I am, too. And even if I could pack my voice with conviction and tell him not to worry, it doesn't matter, he'd still be downcast. And every time he looks toward the window, his eyes get all watery—"

"Were the X-rays all right?" Asey asked.

"Yes, I drove over again just now. Nothing's broken, though I'm sure I don't know why not. I think it was that tooth that messed things up so, and added such a gory touch—have you found out yet what actually happened to him?"

"We've pieced most of it together," Asey said. "When he walked out back in the woods with Tim Carr and his grandmother, he thought he saw someone lurking in the bushes. He slipped off without sayin' anythin', an' tried to investigate the matter on his own. He thought he saw someone sneak into Jack Lorne's house—didn't have on his long distance glasses, so he couldn't be sure, but he followed anyway. He went in, an' someone was waitin' for him by the door, an' give him that belt on the jaw. He didn't see the person, it all happened too quick. In fallin', he went head over heels down the cellar steps that lead off the entry. That accounts for his ankle, an' the general abrasions an' contusions he's got."

Asey decides on motives, tomorrow.

LIQUOR CASE

Mrs. Martha Lambrecht of Bloomington, Ill., is suing a saloon keeper for $25,000.00 under the state dram shop act—Mrs. L. charges that her husband became drunk from liquor sold or given him by the saloon keeper and went home and shot himself. The law is very clear on cases like this and it looks as if Mrs. Lambrecht would win the case.

Because it disappeared so suddenly, the Carolina rail bird once was thought to turn into a frog when winter came.

CUSTODIANS OF PUBLIC MONIES TO MAKE REPORT

Law Requires Publication of Receipts and Disbursements

The attention of all public officials who are custodians of public funds is being called to the law which requires them to publish at the end of each fiscal year statements of the receipts and disbursements thereof, the statute reading:

Each public officer, other than a state officer, (and other than a city or village treasurer who is required by Article VII of 'An Act to provide for the incorporation of cities and villages,' approved April 10, 1872, as amended, to file an annual report to the city council or board of trustees which report is required to be published), who, by virtue of his office receives for disbursement and disburses public funds in the discharge of governmental or municipal debts and liabilities, shall, at the expiration of each fiscal year, prepare a statement.

Of all moneys received and from what sources received, giving items, particulars and details.

Of all moneys paid out, giving the name of each individual to whom paid, on what account paid, and the amount.

Such statement shall be subscribed and sworn to by the public officer making such statement, and, within thirty days after the expiration of such fiscal year shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which such public officer resides.

In counties having a population of less than five hundred thousand ($500,000), if such public officer in the discharge of his official duties, receives all or any part of his funds from the county treasurer, he shall in addition to the duties already imposed by this Act, file with the county treasurer, a copy of such published statement, accompanied by a certificate showing the date of publication and signed by the publisher of the newspaper in which such publication is made. Unless such certificate and copy of the published statement are filed with the county treasurer within sixty days after the expiration of each fiscal year, the county treasurer shall withhold payment to such public official of any and all funds until receipt of the certificate and copy of the published statement.

In addition to the penalties provided for in the foregoing section, any public officer, including any

Walnut News of Today

Mrs. Kizzie Rix, Reporter. Phone L 391

Former Walnut Man Killed by Lightning

Cullen McGonigle, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey McGonigle of Walnut, was instantly killed Monday afternoon in Erie when lightning struck the barn where he had taken refuge from the storm. He and another man had been plowing on his father-in-law's farm and when they discovered the approaching storm they hurried into the barn. Three horses were killed and the hired man was knocked unconscious.

Mr. McGonigle leaves his wife, a son Kent, his parents, and two sisters. He was raised in Walnut and was a graduate of the Walnut high school and had many relatives and friends in this vicinity.

Funeral services will be held at Pention at the home of Seth Wilson at 1 o'clock on Thursday and at the Walnut Christian church at 3 o'clock with burial at the Walnut cemetery.

GARDEN CLUB

The Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Daisy Strouss Monday afternoon with eight members present. Mrs. Frank Swanson was welcomed into the club. Mrs. O. C. ## Little Debate On Drivers' License Bill By Senators Springfield, Ill., June 8—(AP)—The anti-Hornor bill to have automobile drivers licensed by Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes passed the senate today on a 27 to 1 roll call with little debate.

The only opposition vote was by Robert M. Harper of East Moline, the governor's senate spokesman, who said the house would again insist that the highway safety program be administered by the division of highways.
A companion bill for financial responsibility of drivers passed the senate, 31 to 1.
Harold G. Ward, Chicago Democratic sponsor of the Hughes bill, said it was similar to the measure on which the 1937 regular session died.
TO BE MARRIED SOON
Chicago, June 8—(AP)—The attractive and socially prominent Mrs. Kitty Byfield, whose "ideal marriage" to Ernest Byfield, Sr., well-known hotel man, ended in divorce three months ago, will be married "possibly the end of this week" to Sidney Spiegel, Jr., heir to a furniture fortune.
This was confirmed over the telephone by Spiegel, who was in the news spotlight when he married and was divorced from Fay Lanphier, "Miss America of 1925" and when he was sued for $250,000 heart balm by the red-headed Dorothy Appleby of the movies in 1935.

VOLCANO ERUPTS; FILIPINOS FLEE

Belching Mayon Slew 1,200 in 1814; Man Dies of Fright

Manila, June 8—(AP)—Authorities tried vainly today to calm thousands of terrified natives within sight of belching Mayon volcano whose periodic eruptions frightened one man to death and drove another insane.
People in the region near the southern tip of Luzon Island became more excited hourly as the volcano rumbled almost continuously and erupted at intervals of about three hours.
Panic spread when the volcano blew off this afternoon, throwing up a great pillar of smoke and vapor and hurling vast quantities of incandescent rock into the sky.
Fear of disease in epidemic proportions in the refugee camp at Nuyda added to the worries of authorities. Doctors reported drinking water there was unsafe.
16,000 Vacate Homes
The Rev. Miguel Selga, director of the government weather bureau in Manila, said no amount of assurance would make the people stay in their homes even when their houses were in no danger.
He said the volcano showed no indications of diminishing or increasing its periodic outbursts.
The six-day eruption of the 7,900-foot peak mounted in intensity this morning causing fear that the climax of the volcano's activity was yet to come.
More than 16,000 villagers of the area 200 miles southeast of Manila have vacated their homes and sought safety from the lava flow from the volcano which caused the death of 1200 people in an eruption in 1814.

LOUISVILLE IS VICTORIOUS IN PITCHERS DUEL

Louisville, Ky., June 8—(AP)—The old timers who annoy the youngsters by sighing for the "good old days" of pitching duels, stolen bases and the squeeze play had some reassurance today that modern baseball is not all sock, swat and "rabbit" ball.
For there was a swell pitchers' duel under the Parkway field lights last night that was won, 2 to 1, by the Louisville Colonels from St. Paul with a two-run, ninth-inning rally climaxed by the infrequent squeeze play.
Trailing by one run which the Apostles manufactured in the fourth without benefit of a hit, the Colonels loaded the bases in the ninth on an error, Fern Bell's single and an intentional pass to Mel Simons. Johnny Strum hit to short and while Simons was being forced at second, Fred Koster galloped home with the tying run.
Bell on Third.
Bell was on third. Ray French came to bat. He dropped a perfect ball between pitcher and first. Bell scored.
The stolen bases? Tony York and George Stumpf of St. Paul supplied them.
Yank Terry permitted the Apostles only three hits while his mates could only nick Lloyd Brown for five.
By beating Columbus 9 to 4 as Indianapolis lost, the Kansas City Blues hoisted themselves into a tie for the lead once more. Leroy Parmelee turned in his eighth victory by tossing Minneapolis to an 11 to 3 win over the Indians.
In the other game, Milwaukee beat Toledo, 7 to 3.
The schedule called for the same teams to meet today.

OFFICER SLAYS WIFE AND RIVAL IN CHICAGO LOOP

Chicago, June 8—(AP)—Hundreds of theatergoers and pleasure seekers who thronged the loop last night witnessed the slaying of a policeman's wife and a man with whom she had just kept a rendezvous.
They stood horror-stricken as a man fired four pistol shots at the couple seated in the front seat of a car at Randolph street and Washington avenue.
Then scores fled in panic. Hundreds of others dashed to the scene from nearby streets, cafes and night clubs. Policeman William McCarthy arrived with drawn gun.
"Put your gun away," said a man near the car. "I'm a policeman, too. Here is my gun. Those people in the car are my wife and the man who wrecked our home."
The man, said Policeman McCarthy, was John Lewer, 53, a policeman of 22 years' service. The victims were his wife, Phyllis Lewer, 40, whom he married 14 years ago, and Harry Johnson, 40, a motor technician.
FOUND DEAD IN BED
Belvidere, Ill., June 8—(AP)—Mrs. Sarah Burton Wright, 71, wife of Omar H. Wright, vice chairman of the Illinois Emergency Relief commission, was found dead in bed today by a maid calling her for breakfast. Wright is president of the Second National Bank and a former president of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce.
Mrs. Wright, a graduate of Rockford College, taught music there for several years. Funeral services were to be held Friday.

Appling Back In Uniform To Test His Injured Leg

Chicago, June 8—(AP)—Luke Appling, hard hitting shortstop with the Chicago White Sox, was back in a baseball uniform today to test his right leg, fractured in an exhibition game at Los Angeles three months ago. He has been out of action since the injury.
The Dixie athlete plans to do some running and throwing the amount of which will depend upon the way the injured leg responds to exercise. Appling may get back into the game within two weeks.

his companion in the robbery. This statement contained the information that Sullivan disappeared after Prescott opened fire, and took with him the money obtained in the robbery.

Sullivan Paroled

Sullivan, who is 33 years of age, police at noon said, is a paroled convict from the Lansing, Kas., penitentiary where he was paroled last September after serving 18 years of an indeterminate sentence for murder. In the Rock Falls city jail this morning as Chief Van Bibber handcuffed him after reading the warrant, Sullivan stated that he had killed a Negro in Lawrence, Kas. 18 years ago.
When arrested in his rooming house Sullivan denied he had been in Dixon at any time last evening. When identified by Lyle Prescott in the Rock Falls jail he changed his story and admitted having participated in the robbery. The money, he said, he threw away along the river bank near the peoria avenue bridge, then followed along the river bank to a point west of Dixon and continued to walk to Sterling and then to his home.

Hit By Single Shot

Sullivan displayed but one mark of Prescott's marksmanship, a hole in the right wrist where one of the pellets passed through the flesh. He complained of pains in his back and a physician said to give him a thorough examination later this afternoon to determine whether he had been shot in the body.

BABY ARIZMENDI DRAWS AMBERS IN 10-ROUNDER

Los Angeles, June 8—(AP)—Baby Arizmendi upset many an apple from the cart last night when he battled lightweight champion Lou Ambers to a draw in a wild 10-round non-title fight before 10,000 screaming fans at the Olympic auditorium.
Today the bellicose Baby, veteran of a thousand and one nights in a prize ring, came out flatly and predicted that welterweight champion Henry Armstrong would knock Ambers out when they meet in New York July 26.
Arizmendi should be an authority on the subject. Two months ago he took a beating—but never a touchdown—from Armstrong in a vicious ten-rounder at the Olympic.
"Armstrong is stronger than Lou and throws too many punches. Ambers is easy to hit. I staggered him and while I took my best shots at Henry, I couldn't phase him," Arizmendi declared.

Pompton Lakes, N. J., June 8—(AP)—Ex-Champion James J. Braddock, who can speak with considerable authority on the subject, doesn't think Joe Louis' sudden loss of form will have any serious effect on his heavyweight title bout with Max Schmeling at the Yankee Stadium June 22.

Adamick Strives For Forty-Four Knockout Victory

Chicago, June 8—(AP)—Jimmy Adamick, the Midland, Mich., dynamite hauled by Jack Kearns as "another Dempsey," said today he hoped to ring up his forty-fourth knockout in fifty-four fights when he faces Jack Trammell, the giant Youngstown, O. Negro, in Mills stadium tonight.
The 24 year old Adamick, who knocked out Al Ettore in Philadelphia in his last scrap, was expected to weigh about 190 pounds when he crawls through the ropes for his Chicago debut. Trammell, whose right hand has gained him a string of knockouts, was expected to weigh 195.

Springfield's Brownies Notch Nearer Loop Top

Chicago, June 8—(AP)—Springfield's Brownies were a notch nearer the top of the Three-Eye League standings today.
And the Brownies rise to third place was attributable to four rallies in the last four innings of their ten-inning battle last night with Clinton.
Trailing by three runs as they went into the seventh, the Brownies scored twice in that frame, but the lowly Clinton crew retrieved one of those runs in their half. One run in the eighth, ninth and tenth enabled the Browns to creep up, tie the score and then win.
The Brownies rise, however, was aided by Waterloo. The Iowans put three big innings together to bowl over Decatur, 9 to 2, dropping the Commies to fourth place.
The leading Evansville Bees fell before the Red Raiders of Cedar Rapids, 6 to 5, and Moline beat Bloomington by the same score.
The same teams were scheduled to meet today.

SCHMELING IS CONFIDENT OF KAYOING JOE

Speculator, N. Y., June 8—(AP)—It is difficult to stay in this pleasant spot for a day and not break out in a rash of predictions about what Max Schmeling will do to Joe Louis two weeks from tonight in the Yankee Stadium.
The German's confidence is so contagious, he is so dead certain he will stop the Negro champion again, that you begin wondering why all those people are buying $30 tickets to watch it happen.

State Hospital

BY G. E. PHILLIPS
Mrs. Nellie Moore of the A-side supervising staff returned to duty from her vacation today. Mrs. Moore would not discuss how she had spent her vacation except that it had passed all too quickly.
The regular weekly dance for patients sponsored by the recreation department was held last evening at the amusement hall. As usual music was furnished by the hospital orchestra.
His vacation having expired John Eldridge has been placed on the absent list as he has not reported for duty. From several of John's close friends we learn that he is not expected to return.
Vernon Bell formerly employed here and now an employee of the state hospital at Elgin visited friends here recently.
John and Mrs. Reuter of the farm force entertained a number of friends from Antioch at their home in Westwood Sunday.
The recent story on the sport page of this paper giving the batting averages of the Dixon baseball team members recalls the fact that the leading hitter of the team is our own Worth Widdmiller of the dental force.
James Lester of the barber shop is vacationing at his home in Amboy.

Illinois Racing Commission Under Investigation

Springfield, Ill., June 8—(AP)—Charges in the state senate that the Illinois racing commission was dominated by "one of its hired officials" saw the first step today toward a full investigation of the commission by a senatorial committee.
The charges were made last night by Simon E. Lantz, Congerville Republican, in support of his resolution authorizing an investigation which was adopted by a 36 to 0 vote.
Lantz told the senate it was his opinion that Christopher Fitzgerald, Steward representing the commission, dominated that body and that arbitrary powers were invoked in ruling J. D. Mikel of Carlock, a neighbor of Lantz, off the tracks for life in August, 1935.

LEE CREDITED WITH RISE OF CUBS TO TOP

Got Away to Slow Start But Shone Memorial Day

Smack into the middle of the picture of 1933 baseball stardom as the National League race turned the corner into June stalked the tall figure of Bill Lee, Chicago Cubs' mound mainstay in their battle with the champion Giants for the leadership of baseball's oldest league.

It's thanks mainly to Lee that the Cubs are up there contending as June's first fortnight brings the National League's seaboard clubs through the midland cities. Before the calendar closed on May, the lengthy Louisianan had a winning streak of four straight games, with 6 hits the maximum made by the enemy in any of the 4 battles.

His third shutout victory of the season on Memorial Day climaxed a scintillating series of mound-mannings in which his opposition scored one run in 37 innings, white-wash wins over the Giants, Pirates and Reds sandwiching a 4-1 triumph over the Bees which snapped a Boston winning streak of 7 straight. He carried an unfinished string of 23 scoreless innings in June.

Freshman Names Appear

Headed by Frank Buck McCormick, Cincy's young slugger, the greatest wave of new stars in many years made National League headlines blossom mainly with freshman names this spring. Today the spotlight is on Lee without distorting the theme of the picture, for the Louisianan's late-May sensationalism came with the same suddenness.

He had arm trouble during spring training season. Two weeks before the pennant drive started, Manager Grimm sent him to San Antonio for treatment. When Dizzy Dean went on the hospital list, Cub campaign plans demanded a pitching ace pronto.

Lee tried, but Cub fandom's hopes faded. Game after game he started without finishing. May 15 against Pittsburgh made it 6 in a row.

Against this unpromising background, Lee's phenomenal performance since mid-May stands out like an Alpine peak in the middle of a desert. The Memorial Day blanking of Reds was his third shutout in 11 days. The boys thumbed the books and found that Bill is now way ahead of last year.

In 1937 he had only 2 shutouts all season and one of them was a 5-inning job on a rainy day in Philadelphia. He didn't get his season's second shutout last year until June 22, but it was a glittered bit against the Giants with Harry Gumbert his mound opponent.

No Shutouts for Year

From June 22 of last year until May 19, 1938, no shutout victories reached Lee's record state. But when May 19 rolled around, it was the same combination, the Giants with Gumbert pitching, that launched the long Louisianan on his road to glory. After failing to finish 6 straight games, he went 10 innings against the Giants at the Polo Grounds and scored the winning run himself, the only tally of the shutout.

His 1938 shutout start was twice as long a job as last year's first shutout. Not stopping there, he blasted the Bees' 7-straight winning streak 4 days later, then used the Pirates on May 27 for his second shutout of the season. Getting really warmed up, he took only two days rest before scaling the peak again to blank the Reds in the holiday doubleheader at Wrigley Field.

That's Lee's style when he's hot. Lots of work. In 1933, his big year with Columbus which graduated him to the major league, he bunched 6 victories inside of 19 days and they were 6 complete games, full-length jobs which he both started and finished. The

Bevilacqua Fans Nineteen Panthers Makes New Record

Trickling out of Nelson by rumor and finally substantiated by Captain Harry Slin of the Dixon Panthers baseball team came the news today that Louis Bevilacqua, on the mound for a Nelson club whiffed nineteen Panther batters in a recent unannounced game.

Slin was reticent about the contest, and as the Panthers lost the game no box score was available. Bevilacqua's performance is believed to have set a record strike-out performance for this section of the state and Lee county.

Bevilacqua is one of Dixon high school's crack backfield men on the gridiron and is expected to bear the brunt of Dixon's running attack against N. C. I. conference opponents next fall.

KNACKS PREPARE TO PLAY WALTON

Locals Can Regain Lead By Winning Next Two Contests

Dixon's strong Knacks go to Walton Sunday to play one of the Illinois State league leaders.

The contest will start with Hoffman on the mound for Walton and he is considered one of the best pitchers in this part of the country. He hails from LaSalle and has been the backbone of Walton's team the past two years. He pitched his club to a championship in the league last year.

Ole Prestegard is the only pitcher in the loop who managed to beat Walton, and Ole will be on the hill for the Knacks Sunday, so a pitchers' duel is foreseen. The Knacks by winning Sunday, can jockey into position for West Brooklyn, the other co-leader of the league Sunday, June 19. If Dixon can win these two games the locals will again be on top of the league.

A large crowd of Dixon fans are planning to see these games. Practice will be held again Thursday evening and all players should attend as changes will be made in the line-up Sunday for the Walton game.

Walton Baseball Nine Defeats Ohio 10 to 8

DISTRICT TOURNEY OPENS.

Two district tournaments in the program of the National Semi-Pro Baseball Congress already are under way at Terre Haute, Ind., and Yonkers, N. Y.

year before he had pitched 21 victories, and every one of them was a complete one-man pitching job. June dawned with a great two-team struggle for first place raging in the National League, with this man Lee leading the Cub onslaught. Ironically enough, it was the campus of Louisiana State University which backgrounded Bill Terry's team in its preparatory maneuvers this March and it was the same campus at Baton Rouge, the Bayou State's capital, that graduated Bill Lee to the baseball wars 9 years ago.

Plaquemine, La., was the town Bill put on the baseball map as his birthplace. From L. S. U. he signed with Rochester and after two seasons with Greensboro, N. C., he moved to Columbus for a 3-year stretch before the Cubs laid some $25,000 on the line for his services after his great 1933 campaign.

FINEST GOLF PROS LINE UP FOR 1938 OPEN

Cherry Hills Links is Rated "Fair Test" By Most Stars

Denver, Colo., June 8.—(AP)—America's finest professional golfers, plus a sprinkling of fairly solid contenders from the amateur ranks, fired final practice shots today in the warm-up for the 1938 National open championship.

The big shots get underway tomorrow. On the basis of practice spins and form-charts, it shaped up as a wide open scramble, with the seasoned campaigners apparently holding no great advantages over a contingent of lesser lights from all sections of the country. Only three places remained to be filled, by alternates, to bring the starting field up to maximum of 170.

Fairways of the Cherry Hills course were a patchwork of divots which only bore mute testimony to the fact the par 35-36-71 layout is considerably tougher than it looks on the surface.

Its 6826 yards spread out over narrow fairways, fringed by some ball-sharing water hazards, and terminating in postage-stamp greens.

Despite considerable "squalking" over the extent of the rough and furrowing of sand traps, most pros rated Cherry Hills a "fair test."

Sub-par and even par performances for a full round have been conspicuously lacking during the pre-tournament play. Striking illustrations were yesterday's practice rounds in cold and rainy weather. Only Henry Picardhof of Hershey, Pa., had a par-equaling effort for 18 holes. It's a consensus of railbirds that 285 won't be broken for 72 holes.

Sinow Conquers Wienman, Takes No. 4 Spot On Ladder

That the big shake-up which rocked the top flight of the tennis ladder over the week-end had not entirely subsided, was indicated on Tuesday afternoon with the report that Garland Sinow, No. 5, had challenged and beaten Alan Wienman, No. 4, by a score of 6-8, 14-12, 6-4.

Sinow climbed out of the No. 5 spot for the first time and took over the No. 4 position, trading places with Wienman. Sinow is now in a position to again challenge Cliff Flanagan who has relinquished his challenge before.

CONSERVATION CLUB FRAMED TO RESTOCK COUNTY

Officers Elected; Club to Be Independent of State Groups

The Dixon Conservation club, an organization perfected last evening at the home of Louis Knick who invited several sportsmen to assemble for that purpose, will engage in a county wide program of restocking, propagation and conservation, the newly elected officers stated today. After many months in which Dixon has been without a sportsmen's organization, the newly organized club plans to be independent from any other state or national body and the program of activity to be adopted will be county wide. The officers elected at the meeting last night were as follows:

President, Louis Knick.
Vice-Pres., William Nixon.
Secretary, E. L. Fulmer.
Treasurer, George Fruin.

T. J. Miller, Jr., was appointed by President Knick to serve as chairman of the executive committee and at the next meeting on June 21, the remaining members will be announced. Frank Edwards was named chairman of the by-laws committee and will name his assistants. Ralph Covert heads the propagation and re-stocking committee with Mayor William V. Slothower.

No Immediate Moves

The club does not plan to make an immediate effort to secure either a fish or game hatchery in this vicinity, as has been previously undertaken without success. Mayor Slothower, in speaking before the sportsmen, assured them of his support in any measure to improve fishing conditions in Rock river. He stated that the clearing of the stream from all sewage, which is expected within a short time, Rock river should be recognized as the best fishing stream in this section of the country, but urged the club to become active in furthering the re-stocking and development of natural conditions in this vicinity.

The purpose of the organization, it was stated, will be to co-operate fully with both state and federal conservation department and their agents, in enforcing regulations and laws along Rock river and its tributaries from Grand Detour to Nelson; to co-operate in restocking Lee county with game birds and improving hunting conditions; to assist in restoring some varieties of marine vegetation in Rock river for the protection and preservation of both fish and game, and to exercise vigilance at all times in observing violations of the fish and game laws and report any such transgressions to the proper officials. Sheriff Ward Miller who attended the meeting assured the club officers of his co-operation in any plan to prohibit illegal fishing and hunting within the county.

PAW PAW DEFEATS WELLAND

The Paw Paw ball team, under the leadership of Oliver Elden, won their first game of the season last Sunday when they defeated the Welland Senators by the score of 10 to 6 at Mendota. Welland enjoyed the lead most of the time, but Paw Paw came from behind in the ninth inning to win by an impressive score.

Neither team scored in the first inning, but both Paw Paw and Welland accounted for a run in the second. Paw Paw's tally came as the result of a single by Challand, an error, and a two base hit by Miller. Welland promptly tied the score in their half as the result of an error, a stolen base and a hit.

Paw Paw scored again in the third, Challand contributing a hit in that fray. Welland met the challenge in their half of the inning, scoring five runs on four hits and two passes.

Both teams failed to register in the fourth, but Paw Paw men crossed the platter three times in the fifth. Singles by George Zimmerman and Atherton, an error and a passed ball accounted for the tally.

The next three innings were uneventful for both teams, and Paw Paw entered the ninth frame with the score 6 to 5 in favor of their opponents. Paw Paw, however, counted five times before the inning was over.

Miller started the fray with a single, which was followed by a base hit by Chacon. George struck out, and then Van Horn flied to centerfield. The responsibility then fell on the shoulders of Ensminger, who delivered the hit that tied up the game. An error followed on the hit, and what proved to be the winning run scored on the play. Olsen, Challand and Atherton followed with base hits, giving Paw Paw a four run margin at the end of their half of the inning. George had no difficulty in disposing of Welland in the latter half of the ninth.

Altogether, Paw Paw made 18 hits, which they utilized to good advantage in run production. Welland secured only seven hits off the pitching of George, who has pitched consistently good ball for Paw Paw all season. George also struck out 10 batters in the wild and woolly contest.

Next Sunday Paw Paw will play Maytown at the latter place. Be a loyal fan and encourage the boys on to another victory.

Do You Know Illinois

By EDWARD J. HUGHES, Secretary of State

Q. Of Illinois' population how many live in communities having public water supplies?

A. More than 6,000,000.

Q. How are other population groups supplied with water?

A. By private wells.

Q. What is the approximate investment over the State in water supply plants?

A. Approximately $305,000,000.

Q. What is the cost of supplying water based on the above estimates?

A. In round numbers $50,000,000.

Q. Where is the State Water Survey Division located?

A. Urbana, Illinois.

Q. Under what immediate supervision is the State Water Survey?

A. The code department of Registration and Education.

Q. What interesting information concerning commercial wasteage in hard and soft water communities has the Water Survey discovered?

A. The variants in soap wasteage in these communities.

Q. How does soap wasteage vary between hard and soft water communities?

A. It was found that in a town which has moderately hard water with a population of 30,000 a half ton of soap worth $180 is wasted each day. In a town with very hard water and a population of 20,000 $224 worth of soap is wasted per day.

Q. How can this wasteage be eliminated?

A. Water treatment of the supply of an Illinois city of 30,000 population effected a saving of $100,000 per year. The entire cost of the new supply of soft water will be paid in ten years at this rate of saving.

Q. What extent of soap consumption was figured in this survey?

A. Only the domestic consumption. Laundries and hotels are not included.

port Friday afternoon on business for the Horse Show association.
